

My office is here as a resource to any Guard members, family or lowans affected by the deployment before, during or after their service overseas.

As members of the Iowa National Guard deploy on tours overseas, lowans' thoughts and prayers will be with them and their loved ones.

This is the largest deployment of Iowa soldiers since World War II, affecting 2,800 Guard members and more than 30 communities in Iowa. While these brave men and women are both proud and honored to answer the call, it can be difficult and scary for families and loved ones.

I am proud to represent lowans willing to make the sacrifice and serve their country in a time of need. My office is here as a resource to any Guard members, family or lowans affected by the redeployment before, during or after their service overseas.
